

CA Proposition 65 Compliance Declaration

HP takes matters concerning the health and safety of our customers seriously and will continue to hold ourselves and our suppliers and partners to the highest of industry standards. HP complies with all laws and regulations -- including CA Proposition 65—related to the safety of our products.

Based on scientific exposure assessments of representative parts and products, we expect that any exposure to CA Proposition 65 listed substances in our consumer and business products to be well below levels determined by the State of California to be safe.

Accordingly, a CA Proposition 65 label is not required on any HP consumer or business products.
